What are the readers of Auxiliary magazine saying?*

"It provides the service it is intended to provide. As a unit president, I have used it at many meetings. I know that our chaplain has used it at every meeting."

"I enjoy getting the ALA magazine in the mail. It is the first magazine I read of my mail!"

"I like the whole thing. Every article is very thorough and full of details."

"I would not have as much information available to me if it were not for the magazine."

"I enjoy the magazine totally."

"No complaints, very satisfied."

"The information helps me to understand more about how other parts of our Auxiliary does things and more about our veterans."

"Keeps me in touch with all that is happening."

"I find information I can't find elsewhere."

"More recent articles have given information about women veterans' concerns and families of returning veterans. Such issues are rarely addressed in media outlets where I live."

"I'm a relatively new ALA member. I find the magazine greatly expands my knowledge of the organization."

"I read the ALA magazine from front to back."

"As a longtime unit officer, it has helped me keep up with current veterans issues and the Auxiliary approach to supporting them."

"I enjoy reading the magazine; it is very informative."

ABOUT AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

With approximately 565,000 members in almost 7,600 communities across the nation, the American Legion Auxiliary represents a major market.

Since 1919, members of the American Legion Auxiliary have banded together to support veterans and military serving our great nation as well as children and the communities in which our members live. The American Legion Auxiliary brings generations of experience for the support of all things American. Auxiliary magazine addresses the interests and values of the American Legion Auxiliary members who support the men and women who have served and continue to serve.

Auxiliary readers include male and female spouses, mothers, grandmothers, sisters, daughters, and granddaughters of millions of veterans who are members of The American Legion and/or deceased veterans. Some Auxiliary members are veterans themselves. Auxiliary is the voice of grassroots, patriotic readers who passionately care about veterans, the military, and their families.

The American Legion Auxiliary website, www.ALAforVeterans.org, offers opportunities for you to see members of the American Legion Auxiliary as they support their communities, veterans, and children, as well as a chance to promote your products and services.

Auxiliary inspires action among its recipients. Auxiliary members are concerned about veterans, the military, and their families. These readers are also concerned about providing service in their communities — Service Not Self is a motto they live by. The mission of the American Legion Auxiliary is to inform and inspire American citizens on the general-interest issues relating to national security, veterans, patriotism, health and welfare of children, and community service.

Our 2021 survey by Readex Research found that about half (48%) of our audience has been motivated to do something in the past 12 months based on reading their issues. Most commonly they have discussed or passed along an article (24%), or got involved or volunteered (16%) as a result of reading Auxiliary magazine. Fully 9% have made purchases of an advertised product or service, and 10% have visited advertisers' websites.

One in three Auxiliary members (31%) pass their issues of Auxiliary along to others (spouse, parent, grandparent, etc.) inside or outside of their homes. The average recipient passes their issues along to 0.33 other people, extending the reach of the publication to more than 215,000 additional readers, above and beyond the circulation.*

Recipients were asked to rate the publication on how well it serves their information needs about the American Legion Auxiliary and supporting veterans issues. Half of recipients (57%) indicated high ratings, compared with only 8% providing low ratings.*

86% of Auxiliary readers read “most,” “some,” or “all” of a typical issue of Auxiliary. One in five recipients spend at least an hour reading their issues of Auxiliary.*

Also, complimentary copies of Auxiliary magazine are provided to almost 10,000 American Legion posts, U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs hospitals and clinics, National Association of State Directors of VA, and USO and Fisher House locations.

Additionally, did you know?

- ★ Nearly three in four members (71%) report checking for country of manufacture, when purchasing products, at least often. Four in five (80%) report that it is important to them that the products they purchase are made in the United States.
- ★ More than 6.2 million hours of service are provided by American Legion Auxiliary members in a single year.

FEBRUARY 2025

REVITALIZING YOUR SECOND HOME

Stories of projects, including fundraisers, that units have done or do on a regular basis to make improvements to their Legion post home. Includes how to better market their post/unit to their community, including to local non-member veteran families, such as having an open house.

HELPING OUR PROGRAMS THROUGH SALES

American Legion Flag & Emblem Sales has been around for decades (almost as long as the Legion Family has been in existence). Money from proceeds comes back to Legion Family programs. In 2023, for example, ALA received $74,000 royalties. They have new items coming out all the time.

MAY 2025

ALL IN THE FAMILY

The American Legion Family unites at the annual Washington Conference, working hard to explain pro-veteran bills and influence lawmakers to do what's best for our veterans, military, and their families.

INCREASING POPPY MAKERS

The Department of Minnesota held a poppy making class to attract new poppy makers. Other departments/units can learn tips and tricks on how they can do the same thing.

AUGUST 2025

ROAD TO RECOVERY

The National Veterans Creative Arts Festival is co-presented by the American Legion Auxiliary and the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs. The weeklong event gives veterans the opportunity to heal from visible and invisible wounds from service, spending time with fellow veterans to build camaraderie, and the chance to perform in a stage show or show their art/writing to the public.

ALA NATIONAL CONVENTION IN TAMPA

Catch a glimpse into what to expect at the ALA's 104th National Convention! The business meeting is our largest national event, bringing in members from around the country to vote on important matters.

THE FLIGHT THAT MAKES A DIFFERENCE

Many ALA members participate and help in some way with Honor Flight, which transports as many veterans as possible to see the memorials of the respective war they fought by flying to Washington, D.C. Members will get a firsthand read of a spring/summer Honor Flight experience.

NOVEMBER 2025

A BRIGHT FUTURE

After their Junior year of high school, selected students from across the country gather for ALA's premier youth program, ALA Girls Nation. During the week, they learn the ins and outs of federal government. This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for students.

CELEBRATING THE SUCCESSES

Members from across the country gather to learn about and celebrate all the accomplishments during the 2024-2025 ALA administrative year as well as conduct official business of the ALA.

MEET NEW ALA NATIONAL PRESIDENT PAM RAY

From the Department of Illinois, learn more about the ALA's 2025-2026 national president, the national focus, and goals for the Auxiliary's new administrative year. She is the fifth national president from that department (state).

The right mix of items in the holiday season is what makes a care package so special. Presenting ready-made items, such as socks, gloves, and hats, are a great way to get the holiday spirit up to the troops.

together care packages for deployed servicemembers. The unit has been doing this since 2017 when Mary Hays and Jo Schell started the program. In the beginning, care packages were sent to a few people from home, and a group from there in their child names to their mailing list — even sending in more as they have more requests.

ALA members add value to legislative talks Legion Family returns to Capitol

By Sara Foster

It has been two years since the right of American Legion—legislative group, and legislative group—has been in hand more than in person in our nation's capital.

2023 brought The American Legion Family back to Capitol Hill for the American Legion's Washington Conference. The event consisted of committee meetings, legislative sessions, and a variety of other activities.

GUIDELINES FOR SUBMITTING DIGITAL FILES

1. FILE REQUIREMENTS

- ★ PDF files are required. Create with “press quality” Acrobat Distiller settings.
- ★ Supply crop marks only for full-page ads that require bleed. For all other ad sizes, supply final trim size without crop marks.
- ★ Full-page ads with bleed must include bleeds that extend 1/8” past the trim size of the publication and may include crop marks that offset at least 1/8” from final trim. Copy must not be any closer than 1/4” from trim size for a live area margin.
- ★ Have all fonts embedded in PDF.
- ★ Verify that all overprint is turned off unless specifically required, as overprint will be preserved “as is.”

- ★ Verify that spelling, copy, and artwork are correct, including that ad meets the submitted insertion order specifications, as ad will be printed “as is.” Publisher does not proofread submitted ads.

2. RESOLUTION AND COLOR REQUIREMENTS

- ★ Resolution must be at least 300 dpi scaled to final size for all halftone images (1200 dpi for bitmapped images).
- ★ All colors must be converted to CMYK (not RGB).
- ★ Pantone and spot colors cannot be accepted. Please verify that any images with Pantone colors are converted to CMYK.
- ★ Avoid using hairline rules. Use .25 point rule as your hairline.
- ★ Testing prior to submission is requested.

3. ARTWORK SUBMISSION OPTIONS

- ★ Files may be submitted by email to: adupload@ALAforVeterans.org

4. SENDING ORIGINAL COLOR LASER PROOFS

Color laser proofs may be shipped to us, clearly specifying tints, color breakdowns, pickup information and illustration identification. Laser proofs should be output at 100% unless otherwise noted and must be created from the files sent for reproduction. We cannot be responsible for accuracy of files if hard copy proof is not submitted.

- ★ Clearly mark all media with your company name.
- ★ Include the name and telephone number of a contact person should we have any questions.

PRINTING AND BINDING METHOD

- ★ Printed on web offset presses.
- ★ Bound by saddle stitching.
- ★ Trim size 7-3/4” x 10-1/2” three and two-column format.

CONTRACT AND COPY REGULATIONS

DISPOSITION OF REPRODUCTION MATERIAL

Unless definite disposition instructions are given, materials will be destroyed after one year.

1. Publisher will not be bound by any conditions, printed or otherwise, appearing on any type of advertising order form or copy instructions when such conditions conflict with the conditions and specifications set forth in this rate schedule.
2. Verbal agreements are void and will not be consented to by publisher. The forwarding of an order is construed as an acceptance of all the rates and conditions under which advertising space is sold at that time. Failure to make the advertising order correspond with provisions of this rate schedule is regarded only as a clerical error and publication will be made and invoiced according to the terms of this rate schedule, without further notice.
3. The American Legion Auxiliary has the sole and exclusive right to use the name American Legion Auxiliary. Unauthorized use of the name and/or emblem of the American Legion Auxiliary is prohibited. Permission to use the name or emblem of the American Legion Auxiliary may only be granted by the National Secretary in appropriate circumstances. All such requests for permission by the advertisers should be submitted to the publisher in writing.
4. Any reference to the American Legion Auxiliary's Auxiliary, the American Legion Auxiliary or its members, departments or units in advertising copy, promotional material or merchandising in any form by the advertiser or advertising agency submitting the advertisement is subject to the prior written approval of the publisher and the American Legion Auxiliary for each use. The mere fact that such references may appear in a printed advertisement does not show approval or endorsement of the advertisement.
5. No advertisement will be accepted subject to exclusion of any other advertiser or product in any issue.
6. Cancellation(s) by the advertiser or advertising agency after the closing date published in this rate schedule will not relieve the advertiser or advertising agency of the obligation to make full payment promptly for the advertising space at issue.
7. Contracts or orders must be bona fide and must specify a definite schedule of insertions, issues and size of space.
8. Publisher is not liable for delays in delivery or for non-delivery, failure to insert advertisement, erroneous insertion of advertisement or materials, or for non-publication, in the event of act of God, action by any governmental or quasi-governmental entity, fire, flood, insurrection, riot, explosion, embargo, strikes whether legal or illegal, labor or material shortage, transportation interruption of any kind, work slowdown or any condition beyond the immediate control of the publisher.
9. Contracts must be completed within one year from date of first insertion to qualify for multiple-frequency discounts. Multiple-frequency discounts are payable only when earned unless publisher has agreed otherwise in advance. Contracts subject to prevailing rates.
10. Rates and conditions are subject to change without notice.
11. Blanket orders, reservation orders and rate-holder orders are not accepted.
12. All copy, text, display and illustrations are published upon the representation, understanding and agreement by the advertiser and the advertising agency that the advertiser and advertising agency are fully authorized; have secured proper written consents for the use of names, photographs, art and testimonials of any living person and may lawfully publish and cause such publication to be made. In consideration of publication of any advertisement, the advertiser and advertising agency agree, jointly and severally, to indemnify and hold harmless Auxiliary, the American Legion Auxiliary, its officers, agents and employees, against all costs and expenses (including attorney's fees) and any and all losses, judgments, fees, claims, damages, civil penalties, fines (when allowed by law) and charges resulting from the publication of the contents of the advertisement, including, without limitation, claims or suits for libel, violation of right of privacy, tort, copyright infringement or plagiarism.
13. Acceptance of advertising for any product or service is subject to investigation of the product or service, and of the claims made for it upon its package, labels and accompanying
14. When change of copy is not received by closing date specified in this rate schedule, copy published in previous issue in which advertisement appeared will be inserted and invoiced, and the advertiser and advertising agency agree to pay according to rates and conditions in this rate schedule.
15. Publisher reserves the right to insert the words "advertisement" or "paid advertisement" above or below any copy at any time, and advertiser and advertising agency agree to this practice. Publisher further reserves the right to insert the words "This is not an official program of the American Legion Auxiliary" above or below any copy at any time, advertiser and advertising agency agree to this practice.
16. Advertiser and advertising agency agree that the publisher's liability for any error will not exceed the amount paid for the space occupied by the advertisement.
17. Advertiser and advertising agency agree that the publisher assumes no liability for errors in key numbers.
18. Advertiser and advertising agency agree that the publisher assumes no liability if, for any reason, it becomes necessary to omit an advertisement.
19. Positioning of all advertising material shall be the sole and exclusive prerogative of the publisher, notwithstanding any preference requested by the advertiser and advertising agency. Any position commitment made by the publisher for a particular issue shall not imply a similar commitment for future issues. If and when such positioning commitments are made by the publisher, a surcharge will be levied. Unless consent is specified in writing at the time of advertising insertion order acknowledgment, the publisher does not agree to or guarantee compliance with any positioning request.
20. Publisher reserves the right to give better position, in the publisher's judgment, than requested, with no adjustment in rate specified at the time of insertion acknowledgment.
21. When it appears necessary or advisable, the publisher may back coupons, and advertiser and advertising agency agree publisher has the right and is authorized to back coupons without incurring any obligation or liability whatsoever.
22. Advertising material will be held for one year and will be returned if requested in writing. If no written instructions are received within one year of receipt of advertising material, advertiser and advertising agency agree that advertising material will be destroyed without publisher incurring any liability or obligation whatsoever. Advertiser and advertising agency agree that, in the event any advertising material is lost by publisher, publisher shall be liable for a maximum of $100 per page as liquidated damages and not as a penalty.
23. Publisher reserves the right to reject or cancel any advertisement for any reason, at any time, without incurring any liability or obligation whatsoever, even though the advertisement insertion may have been previously acknowledged, accepted, or published in a previous issue, and advertiser and advertising agency agree to this provision.
24. Advertiser and advertising agency agree that no course of dealing shall constitute a change, amendment, alteration or contradiction of any provision contained in this rate schedule. Advertiser and advertising agency further agree that any modification or waiver agreed to by publisher shall not constitute a future commitment to modify or waive the same or any other terms or conditions of this rate schedule.
25. Publisher can make such changes in quality and weight of paper specified in this rate schedule as publisher deems necessary or advisable, and the advertiser and advertising agency agree that publisher reserves such right.
26. The publisher reserves the right to request a sample of any product being sold by mail through the Auxiliary. The advertiser agrees to supply such sample, if requested, free of charge prior to acceptance of any advertisements. The American Legion Auxiliary has no responsibility for return of samples; nor will it even attempt return of a sample unless proper wrapping or packaging material and all containers are supplied and all fees for its return are paid in advance by the advertiser.

American Legion Auxiliary Mission:

In the spirit of Service Not Self, the mission of the American Legion Auxiliary is to support The American Legion and honor the sacrifice of those who serve by enhancing the lives of our veterans, military, and their families, both at home and abroad.

For God and Country, we advocate for veterans, educate our citizens, mentor youth, and promote patriotism, good citizenship, peace and security.
